Recruitment, Hiring, Promotion

- PWCS uses a standards-based approach to monitor performance.
- PWCS Professional Educator Performance Standards, aligned with the Virginia Guidelines, were crafted to provide clear and defined standards for the performance of professional educators.
- These standards shall be used in the supervision and evaluation of all professionals.
- Each professional educator standard is defined by key elements.

PWCS Curriculum and Professional Learning

A Culturally Competent and Anti-Racism Framework

- All newly hired professional educators and administrators participate in Creating Opportunities Through Relationships (COR) Modules in collaboration with the University of Virginia.
- The Office of Professional Learning (OPL) team, in collaboration with national consultant Dr. Lisa Williams have written the curriculum and professional learning that is being implemented. The curriculum and professional learning in PWCS have a culturally competent and anti-racism framework. Typically, these frameworks would focus on one of these topics.
- Modules and training materials are completed, and professional learning is phased in through these levels: Level 1- On-Boarding, Level 2- Pre-Competence, Level 3- Competence and Level 4 - Proficiency to provide implementation and offer a scaffolded approach to readiness and learning.
- These materials, resources, and professional learning are customized to the unique needs assessed for our community.
- The OPL team is focused on building the capacity of stakeholders in the Division through turn-around-training for five curriculum specialists and culturally aware and responsive educators (CARE) in all schools in PWCS.

PWCS Curriculum and Professional Learning

A Culturally Competent and Anti-Racism Framework

Overview

Level 1 - On-boarding - Establishing vocabulary; creating “safe” and inclusive spaces for the work of cultural competency development and anti-racism

Level 2 - Pre-Competence - Understanding micro aggressions, bias, and marginalizing practice. What are the things we should know, be aware of, or interrupt within these spaces?

Level 3 - Competence - Applying our knowledge and understanding. How do we use data to drive culturally competent and anti-racism practice(s)?

Level 4 - Proficiency - Extending our knowledge, understanding, and experiences. How do we use organizational structures to institutionalize culturally competent and anti-racism practice(s)?

SRO Program

- Long-term collaboration between PWCPD and PWCS for over 40 years.
- SRO unit is comprised of one SRO for each MS and HS and supervised by one lieutenant and four sergeants.
  - Includes an SRO at The Nokesville School and two SROs at Independence Nontraditional School.
- SROs investigate criminal matters involving school-related activities and provide staffing for certain after-school activities.
  - SROs do not enforce or become involved in Code of Conduct violations.
- SROs act as role models for students, promote positive behavior, and are considered a part of the school administrative team.
- SROs receive certification training from the Virginia Center for School and Campus Safety.
- The SRO unit acts as educators regarding juvenile law or by presenting Virginia Rules curriculum upon request.
  - Virginia Rules are state curriculum modules regarding laws and other topics that affect students.
- SROs assist the school in creating and maintaining a safe school environment and take an active role in crisis response.

Legal Framework for Pupil Assignment Plans

- School Board obligation and authority to redistrict school boundaries or adopt reassignment plans whenever such procedure will contribute to the efficiency of the school division. Va. Code § 22.79 (4)
- School Board required to hold prior public hearing before adoption and to develop policies and regulations implementing the process for reassignment plans. Va. Code §§ 22.1-78 and 22.1-79 (8)
  - School Board Policy 264 and Regulation 264-2
    - Balance enrollments at affected schools; consider demographic balance; avoid splitting small neighborhoods; consider efficiency of transportation and minimizing travel for students
    - Boundary process includes public input (committees, public meetings)
    - School Board has ultimate authority to set school attendance boundaries
    - Office of Facilities Services holds community meetings to gather input from the public regarding proposed school boundaries
    - School Board holds a public hearing prior to establishing school boundaries

Laws Governing Pupil Reassignment or Redistricting Plans

Equal Educational Opportunity Act, 20 U.S.C. § 1701

- All children enrolled in the public schools are entitled to equal educational opportunity without regard to race, color, sex, or national origin; and
- the neighborhood is the appropriate basis for determining public school assignments.
- Equal Protection Clause of the 14th Amendment to the U.S. Constitution
- Plan must be facially neutral, i.e., assign students by neighborhood or geographic area, rather than race, national origin, etc.
- May not assign a specified percentage of a particular student group merely because of race or ethnic origin. “Outright racial balancing is ‘patently unconstitutional.’” Parents Involved in Community Schools v. Seattle School Dist. No. 1., 551 U.S. 701, U.S. Supreme Court (2007).
- However, school divisions may pursue diversity “by drawing attendance zones with general recognition of the demographics of neighborhoods.”
- “The Constitution imposes no duty on school officials to correct segregative conditions resulting from factors over which they have no control, such as residential patterns.”
- However, “in the administration of public schools . . . it is permissible to consider the racial makeup of schools and to adopt general policies to encourage a diverse student body, one aspect of which is its racial composition.” U.S. v. Alamance-Burlington Bd. Of Educ., 640 F. Sipp. 2d 670 (M.D.N.C. 2019)

Exclusionary Discipline

Percent of Students with Exclusionary Discipline by Ethnicity

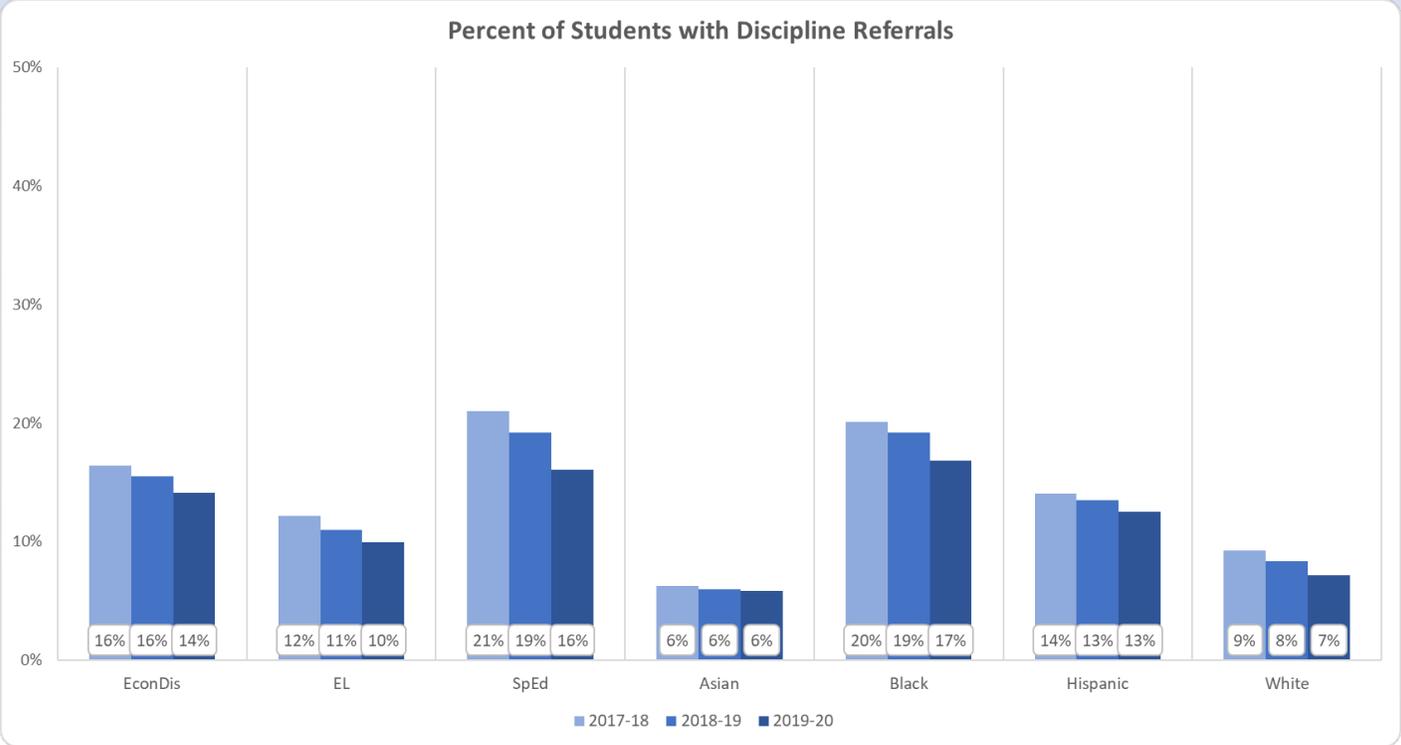

- Complete discipline data can be found on PWCS website Equity Scorecard Discipline Data
- Exclusionary Discipline compares all unduplicated students in a school during any part of the school year with all unduplicated students in a school during any part of the school year that have received one or more in-school suspension or out-of-school suspension.
- Exclusionary discipline includes any disciplinary action (ISS, OSS) that removes the student from the expected instructional environment.
