Prince William County, wrote about the progress in the C. W. A. office at Haymarket. As of 6 January 1934 their offices had placed 183 men, and between $9,000 and $10,000 was being distributed weekly among those Prince William men.² President Roosevelt's work initiatives were being felt in our county.

The Great Depression, beginning in 1929, was greatly felt by the inhabitants of Prince William County. The newly elected President Franklin D. Roosevelt began to reverse the negative effects of the depression by creating civil work projects to get men back to work with his initiative, the New Deal. Work programs included the WPA (Works Progress Administration), C. W. A. (Civil Works Administration) and the (Civilian Conservation Corps). Henry C. ¹ Beverly Veness has worked at RELIC, Bull Run Regional Library, Manassas, Virginia, for 13 years. Her daughter, Megan, is an archaeologist who, while in field school in 2000, helped determine the site of the CCC Camp at Big Meadows in the Shenandoah National Park. Thus began Beverly's interest in CCC Camps.

² The Manassas Journal, 11 Jan. 1934, p. 3. An article in The Manassas Journal, 25 Jan. 1934, p. 8, contradicts the 11 Jan. report of 1000 men placed. On 25 Jan., Mr. Dulaney states that 183 men have been placed, not 1000. I believe the 1000 was a typo and should have been 100. The Re-employment Committee does not furnish jobs, but supplies eligible persons to the various agencies which are employing people such as the C.W.A. (Civil Works Administration), P.W.A. (Public Works Administration) or private employers.

The CCC was created to give men employment, boost their morale and spiritual welfare, and benefit the nation with forest protection. This included protection against forest disease and insects, forest improvement, erosion, flood control, and related projects. On 31 March 1933, the Emergency Conservation Work (ECW) program was passed by Congress.³ Its more commonly known name, Civilian Conservation Corps, began officially on 5 April 1933 with Executive Order No. 6101.⁴ In order to enlist into the CCC, men had to meet certain requirements: 1) Be 18-25 years of age, 2) unmarried, 3) physically fit, 4) unemployed, 5) a citizen of the U.S., and 6) support their dependent beneficiary(ies) on public relief rolls (those on government assistance) with most of their monthly $30 wages.⁵ The enrollment period was for six months but could be extended. In a radio announcement mid-December 1934 by Robert E. Fechner, Director of the Emergency Conservation Work, the monetary figures for running the CCC were given. The total cost of the program to date was $474.5 million, with $143 million going to the men for their salaries, and out of that $113 million being sent home to the men's families.⁶

The first CCC camp in Prince William County, known as P-71 (P = Private Forest), was started in October 1933 at Canova, approximately nine miles south of Manassas. In 1935, other CCC camps came into existence in Prince William County⁷: SP-22, SP-25 and SP-26 (SP = State Park). Later there were military-occupied CCC Camps: NP-D-5 and NP-D-16 (NP = National Park, D = Private Land for Soil Conservation Service) which ran from June 1941 until February 1943. These later camps were located within the Chopawamsic Recreational Development Area, later called Prince William Forest Park, currently a National Park.⁸

The beginnings of Camp P-71 occurred on 15 September 1933, with a land use agreement made between Manassas's Miss Jane Shields Herrell⁹ and F. C. Pederson, Acting State Forester on behalf of the Virginia Forest Service and Bureau of the State Commission on Conservation and Development.¹⁰ This was for a piece of land she acquired on 5 April 1919 known as the "Mountain View Tract," containing 396 acres situated in the Coles Magisterial District, formerly belonging to James E. Herrell, deceased.¹¹ The tract of approximately 10 acres, bounded on the north, south and west by Miss Jane Herrell's land and on the east by Route 234, beginning at the junction of Route 234 and Occoquan Road (today more commonly known as Hoadly Road). This property is located where the present-day Coles District Volunteer Fire and Rescue station stands. This easement and right-of-way granted the construction and maintenance of a lookout fire tower, or station, to be used for the purpose of detecting forest fires.

Establishment of Camp P-71

The Manassas Journal heralded the beginnings of "Forest Camp at Canova" as front page news on Thursday, 19 October 1933. The first "boys" to arrive came on 15 October and by midweek there were 80 officers and men establishing the camp, known as Company 299, 3rd Corps. 12 The camp was run by the Army, Captain T. H. May in charge of the men. The State Forestry Department ran the forestry work with Chief Forest Warden J. M. (James Milton) Russell, a Prince William County man, overseeing the projects¹³. Barracks as well as a fire lookout station were to be erected.

The camp cost more than $30,000 to build (eventually costing approximately $40,000¹⁴) using labor that did not exceed 75 cents per hour. 15 Labor alone cost over $18,178. By the end of February 1934, all buildings were completed except the recreation hall which was 95 per cent finished. It was noted that payroll was very high for three pay periods due to the extraordinary number of men hired to complete the buildings.

The newly finished Camp P-71 wanted a more meaningful name and it was decided that a substantial cash prize would be awarded to the person who came up with a winning camp name. Over 150 suggestions were received. The group of judges met at the home of Miss Janie (Jane) Herrell, owner of the land on which the camp was located and the donor of the prize. A unanimous decision was reached. James P. Lilly of Barracks 3, Group 6, submitted the winning entry: "CAMP RECOVERY – Dedicated to the work of the CCC and its effect upon the youth of the Nation." Mr. Lilly's entry spoke of the optimistic hopes that President Roosevelt had wanted – to boost the youths' morale and benefit the nation with their employment. The announcement of this new name in the newspaper states, "Thus is history made and Camp Recovery will be known to the community long after the actual camp has passed from existence."17

By the end of January 1934, there were 206 men from New York State stationed at Virginia's Camp Recovery. Four Army officers were in charge of the camp and eight forestry foremen and a camp superintendent were in charge of their mission. From 16 October 1933 until 31 January 1934 much had been accomplished. The following list of progress was submitted by the Superintendent¹⁸:

- Twenty-eight and one quarter miles of fire lanes.
- Twenty-eight and one quarter miles of truck trails.
- One thousand three hundred and forty-seven acres of fire hazard reduction.
- Foundations layed [sic] for tower in Fairfax County and Prince William County.

- Steel construction started on Prince William County tower.
- Six acres of general cleanup.
- Nine tool boxes constructed.
- Three acres of public camp ground cleaning.
- Ten acres of insect eradication and control in Fairfax County on Nypen Inc.
- Roads repaired in and around camp site.
- Ninety-one loads of sand hauled by forestry trucks to camp site and tower site.
- One acre entirely cleaned of all timber for tower at Prince William County
- Forestry truck delivered twenty-eight loads of slabs and fire wood for camp.
- Fifty-one loads of stone hauled for tower foundations and truck shed.

Part of the men's duties was to clear out the old logging roads that once traversed the forests of southern Prince William to make the region more accessible and provide more adequate fire protection. Due to the many acres of trees, saw mills were plentiful at one time; it is said that there were more than a dozen large saw mills in the area. P-71's areas of fire suppression/maintenance included the counties of Prince William and Fairfax. Later their area grew even larger. The Conservation Corps opened up necessary fire lines without cost to the owner as long as they had the owners' permission. Contracts with the Virginia Forest Service were initiated under the Act of 31 March 1933 for the Relief of Unemployment. Some land owners who agreed to have work done were L. D. Copen, Herbert G. Jory, Marshall D. Woodyard, Wilbert B. Patterson, Wm. [William] B. Crawford, G. W. Wheaton, Mrs. Grace Deavers, and Thomas A. Cooper. Contracts

An inspection by Colonel Cobrey, District Supervisor for Virginia, gave hope that Co. 299 would be recommended for the district prize. The district comprised about a dozen companies stationed in northern Virginia with Washington and Fredericksburg at the farthest reaches.²²

The payroll and subsistence allotment for the camp was over $10,000 per month which, of course, benefited local businesses.²³

Fire Towers

The State mandated that 35 fire towers were to be constructed by the Conservation Corps throughout Virginia for spotting forest fires, allowing for a quick response time to protect resources. Camp P-71 was responsible for building two 100-foot towers of steel, one in Prince William County, on the grounds of their camp, and the other in Fairfax County.²⁴

The location of the fire tower was just south of present-day Coles District Volunteer Fire and Rescue at 13712 Dumfries Road (Route 234). Field glasses were purchased for the fire tower, the county contributing $32.50 and the rest of the cost by landowners and others. Several local residents remember climbing the tower including: Sam Keys, Carl Oleyar, and Betty Jean Lowe Eller, whose grandfather, Samuel R. Lowe, Jr., had his farm directly across the street from the tower. Mrs. Eller recalls that the tower was manned by the Ellicott brothers. Sam Keys recalls other watchmen in later years: Joe ²⁶ Walter H. Ellicott was a forestry foreman in the camp in 1934. Most likely he is one of the brothers.

Kemper from Buckhall, Edward Johnson and Clive Alderman from West Virginia. The fire tower was not needed anymore when it was replaced with the 9-1-1 phone system. The tower was dismantled in 1988 and now resides in South Carolina.²⁷

The Fairfax County lookout tower was in operation by the end of March 1934²⁸ and was a few miles from Herndon, near Pender, on the west side of West Ox Road, north of Route 50, the Lee-Jackson Highway. It was just east and north of the present-day Fair Oaks fire station.²⁹ The tower in Fairfax was controversial because it was to be built within a mile of a nudist camp and the public was allowed to climb up the tower to "view the countryside."³⁰ In actuality, local residents say the nudist colony was a good five miles from the tower, closer to Reston off Lawyers Road.³¹ Local resident Vincent Sutphin remembers the tower and commented that the woods were so thick around there that you wouldn't have been able to see the colony even if it was closer to the tower. Delbert Sheads who worked for the Forestry Department recalls that the year the tower was erected, 1934, was scratched into the concrete at the first step of the foundation. He said this was a common practice when fire towers were erected. The Army took over the tower in 1941 or 1942 and used it as a spotting station for air defense for Washington, D.C. Later the FCC had equipment on it. The tower was relocated to Suffolk, Virginia, around 1978 where another 20 feet was added to the tower due to the flat Tidewater land, making the structure 120 feet tall.³²

The steel towers had a glass enclosed platform. Telephone lines were connected to the towers and were equipped with field glasses and instruments for locating a fire on a map.³³

Goochland counties. Others were from Newport News, Portsmouth and Richmond. Many were seasoned with over a year's Corps experience.³⁸ Around 6 June, 45 more men arrived at Camp P-71 from the Camp at Dellwyn, Buckingham County, Va., as the Dellwyn camp was turning into a "colored camp." 39 40

Company 1337 (Junior Company, Negro Camp) Camp P-71 became a "colored camp" on 1 September 1934 when men organized at Ft. Monroe, Virginia came to Canova. These men hailed from Maryland, the District of Columbia and Virginia. At one point, at the end of August 1934, there were only six men in camp, but on 30 June 1935, there were 224 men: 105 from Maryland, 35 from Virginia and 78 from the District of Columbia along with six white men who served as the officers. 41 Dr. Stewart McBryde was the contract surgeon who was assigned to this one camp. Under the command of Captain Darmopray, the company was selected as outstanding in sub-district No. 17.42 Their responsibility consisted of 158.8 miles of lands from Prince William, Fairfax, Fauquier and Stafford counties. 43

Company 1372 occupied P-71 for a brief time pending the construction of another camp. A lease for the property was contracted beginning 1 April 1937 and ending with 30 June 1937. Civilian Conservation Corps Legacy website states Co. 1372 was at Camp P-71 as of 5 May 1937. 45

[Page 165] on the Condition & proviso that said EWELL should faithfully execute Your Orator a Mortgage for the fee simple of s^d tract of land for the security and payment of Your Orators afs^d debt which then amounted to the Sum of three hundred & twenty five pounds to be paid in the Manner and form following to wit. Respecting this latter Contract no other Writing passed between Your Orator & said EWELL except a Memorandum signed by both which is hereto Annexed to which Your Orator refers praying the Same may be taken as part of this his Bill. Your Orator further sheweth unto Your worships that Repeated applications has been made to execute such Mortgage as afs^d unto your Orator but he has always refused & Still refuses to do the same. Repeated applications have also been made to him for the payment of the several sums of Money afs^d but he has never paid any part of either pretending that he has not got the Money to make payment nor will he give up the afs^d tract of land to your Orator according to their first Contract nor will he either sell the same or suffer your Orator to do it to satisfy the afs^d several sums of money all which actings are Contrary to Equity & Good Conscience & tend to the Injury & oppression of Your Orator And inasmuch as your Orator is Remediless in a Court of law to the end therefore that said Solomon may

[Page 166] a true & perfect answer make to the premises on oath as fully as if the same were here again repeated and more especially whether he did not first by Articles of agreement signed and sealed sell unto your Orator the aforesaid tract of Land and for what sum Whether the Articles were not deposited with Col^o James EWELL. And what has become of them. Whether it was not on the first of January 1792 agreed between him & your Orator that the sale should be rescinded on Condition he would execute a Mortgage in manner & form as is before set forth Whether he has ever executed any such Mortgage whether he has not been often applied to for such Conveyance and Whether he has not always Refused to execute the Same Whether he has not also refuse to Comply with his first Contract and let your Orator have the land Whether he did not on the 1st January 1792 owe your Orator three hundred and Twenty five pounds and if not What did he then owe and Whether he has Since paid any part, And What sum does he now owe your Orator and Whether he is willing to sell afs^d Land or to suffer your Orator to do it to satisfy his afs^d debt and that the said lands by a decree of this Court may be sold & the monies arising therefrom may be applied to the payment of your Orator afs^d Debt and that such further Equity may be done in the premises as shall seem fit & adviseable to this Worshipfull Court. all done by the hand of Col^o Thomas B MARTIN the Chief Manager & conductor of the land Office of his Lordship is hereunto annexed to which your Orator refers praying the same together with the Notes and Remarks annexed to said Survey may be taken as part of this his Bill. After this the said James FRENCH sold or gave the afs^d Land to Thomas RENOE now dec^d and desired a patent to issue in the name of said RENOE all of which will appear by Notes in the hand Writing of Col^o MARTIN by Reference to back of said plott which your Orator pray may be taken as part of this his bill When the said survey was Returned or some short Time after Colo John BAYLIS a friend and Favourite Surveyor of his Lordships promised & undertook to pay the Composition Money and Colo MARTIN accepted him [Page 171] for the same and promised accordingly to Issue A patent for said RENOE. The said RENOE considering his title to afs^d Lands perfected and indisputable moved on the Lands and built houses thereon and made some other improvements and Resided thereon for the space of nine years and then departed this life having Two Sons and three Daughters Viz^t Lewis, Thomas, Catharine who is now living and intermarried with a John CARGYLE, Margaret who intermarried with Richard LEE and Mary who Intermarried with Thomas HOOMES Sen^r Lewis Resided on said Lands for some ten Years & then died about the same time Thomas died neither having Wife or Child the Land then descended to the s^d Catharine CARGYLE Margaret LEE & Mary HOOMES of whom by and with the consent of their husbands Your Orators purchased their claims to afs^d Land but your Orator Apprehensive that there might not be Sufficient Evidence of the s^d Sale from James FRENCH to Thomas RENOE bought of Stephen FRENCH the heir of said James his tittle

[sic] to the afs^d Lands and your Orator and no other person until some little time before the purchase of Stephen FRENCH had discovered that the Patent had never Issued or had never been actually granted to said Thomas RENOE, upon making this discovery & the purchase of said Stephen your Orator made known his claim and title to the Register of the Land Office of this State & paid him the fees of Office who gave advice of the same & that your Orator was Legally entitled to a Patent for afs^d lands to the Governor who thereupon issued & Granted a Patent for afs^d lands bearing date the 6th day of May in the year 1794 which patent is hereto annexed to which your Orator Refers Praying the same may be taken as part of this his Bill. But so it is may it please your worships that a Certain Enoch RENOE whom your Orator prays may be made a Defendant to this his bill of Complaint well advised and informed of the Premises and of the claim and title afs^d to said lands and intending artfully and deceitfully to defeat the same did privately Locate and Survey the afs^d Lands together with some few Acres adjoining by Virtue of a Treasury Warrant and Secretly and privately slipt [slipped] to the Registers Office with said Treasury Warrant & Survey and on the 3^d Day of October 1792 fraudulently Obtained a Patent for the Lands inclusive of your Orators by Means Whereof according [Page 172] according [sic] to the Rules and construction of Courts of Law that the oldest patent is entitled to a preference of claim your Orator must loose [sic] his claim & tittle [sic] & be without Remedy at common law. All which Letings and doing are contrary to Equity & Good Conscience & tend to the manifold oppression of your Orator[.] To the end therefore that the defendant may a true and perfect Answer make to the premises as Specially & fully as if the same were here again repeated and interrogated and that the said Defend^t may be compeled to convey the afs^d lands & appurtenances of one hundred & Twenty eight Acres to Your Orator & his heirs & that Equity may be done in the premises Your Orator prays the commonwealths most Gracious writ of Sp^a &c.
