HUMAN RIGHTS COMMISSION STUDENT LEADERSHIP COUNCIL

OUR MISSION:

LEAD & LEARN... The Prince William County Human Rights Commission and its partners launched the Human Rights Student Leadership Council (HRSLC) to enrich high school students with knowledge about their human, civil rights, and anti-discrimination laws. The program is designed to prepare high school students for leadership roles, while broadening their impact as prospective employees, tenants, and consumers in the community. The Student Leadership Council provides students with an opportunity to work with local government to increase community awareness and ensure the voices of our future leaders are heard.
