

Prince William County Committed Affordable For-Sale Units Program Lender Selection

Prince William County does not endorse any particular lender. All applicants have the right to choose any lender that agrees to abide by the Program guidelines.

It is recommended to talk with lending institutions, compare lending products and decide which lender provides the best loan terms. We encourage the use of free housing counseling services agencies to guide you in this process.

The lender of your choice must provide the required pre-approval information on the County's approved form.