Exhibiting Artwork at Prince William Public Library

All artwork will be reviewed for exhibition consideration. Exhibits should contribute positively and enrich the Library environment. Exhibit areas are available on an equitable basis regardless of the beliefs or affiliations of individuals or groups requesting their use. The library endeavors to present a broad spectrum of opinions and viewpoints, however, exhibition does not imply endorsement by the Prince William Public Library System or the Library Board of Trustees.

The Library's decision on what will be displayed in its exhibit spaces will be final.

The artist is responsible for delivery of all selected artwork as well as pick up of artwork when the exhibit is over. The branch will decide placement of the intended artwork.

In recognition of the opportunity to display artwork at the Library, a donation to the Friends of the Library is appreciated, but not required.

The Library may include information about the current exhibit on the Library's website, posters, and various other media outlets where the Library advertises. Any outside advertising is the responsibility of the artist.
